Section 1: The Problem

Student government is always looking for a way to better the lives of students on campus. Many students still submit themselves to tanning booths despite the warnings of malignancies. Student Government is looking to grow and involve more students. To do this we must market ourselves as much as possible.

Section 2: The Solution

The Student Rec Center hosts a health fair known as Welloween Friday October 28th from 11:30 to 1:30. This provides tables of health tips to students as well as rocket ex class demos and free flu shots. Student Government can sign up to have table with information about Skin Cancer. Also those at the table will promote student government as well as a special 'Watcha Want Welloween'.

Section 3: Implementation

Student Government will have a table from 11:30 to 1:00 at Welloween. The table will provide information about skin cancer: what to look for, increased rates in multiple ethnic backgrounds, and ways to prevent. Student Government will provide information on when senate meets and what they do as a body as well as the roll of cabinet and SJC. At least one person will have their 'Whatcha Want' shirt with a clipboard taking suggestions from students and later sending them to the Vice Chair of Senate. Those Senators that participate in working the table will gain a service hour. If participating in Whatcha Want Welloween, this will count as the senator's mandatory participation for the semester.
